ABOUT ME

I am an ambitious and dedicated student pursuing a degree in Computer Science, driven by my passion for technology and innovation. With a foundation in programming languages such as Java, JavaScript and some libraries and frameworks. I am eager to apply my skills and knowledge to real-world challenges. Throughout my academic journey, I have consistently achieved good grades. I have a particular interest in areas such as artificial intelligence, machine learning, and software development, and I am always eager to explore the latest advancements in these fields
